

If you are interested in having Mr. Gregg Tyler Milligan speak at your event or present a workshop to your audience, he would be happy to work with you and your organization.

All of Mr. Milligan's speaking engagements/workshops are conducted for free in educational / professional / public forums. The focus of Mr. Milligan's pro bono work is simply to give back.

- As an international author/advocate, Milligan has spoken both nationally and internationally at several organizations and universities as outlined in his Curriculum Vitae. His work and books have also been featured on talk shows, TV, and newspapers/magazines.
- Milligan's message can be adapted to most any audience for inspiration, education, awareness, and also to say thank you to those who dedicate their time to helping others.
- The focus of Milligan's books and advocacy is to promote a message of education as the key to helping those who have suffered any form of trauma to attain a better life, using his own experience as an illustration – and recognizing the power of compassion. He donates 100% of proceeds from his books to charitable organizations.

To prepare for the event and ensure that the topic/ content are of great relevance and meaning to your audience, it is requested that you have the following prepared when contacting Mr. Milligan about your event:

Speaking Requirements:

1. Agenda
2. Recommended discussion topic
3. Duration of speech
4. Marketing and Advertising featuring the event and speaker one-month prior to event
5. Expenses covered if traveling out of state or more than two hours away from home by car (air / lodging / gas or ground transportation provided)
6. Following the event, a formal presentation of a recognized university and/or organizational prestigious award or honorary distinction in appreciation of humanitarian contributions.

Milligan's work is philanthropic and focused on education, perseverance and hope. He actively seeks to partner with any educational program, university curriculum or charitable / human rights organization that would benefit from his experience.

Milligan's latest book, Landscapes of the Heart details his personal and professional experiences as an adult, including his time spent overseas where he worked for a major charitable foundation (The Mirror Foundation) and spoke at several universities in order to promote a joint model of education and compassion, as a means to a sustainable future for all.

Mr. Milligan would be happy to meet with you, or anyone you may know to discuss his work and any opportunities for pro bono collaboration or a speaking event / workshop.

He appreciates the ability to touch the lives of those playing a critical role in providing education and opportunities to those with limited / no other resources.

Mr. Milligan can be reached at greggmilligan@gmail.com or by Facebook (www.facebook.com/gregg.milligan).
